

WHYTE & MACKAY

GLASGOW

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY

ENTER THE

LIONS DEN

SPECIAL

Whyte & Mackay was born on the docks of Glasgow in 1844 by James Whyte and Charles Mackay. Since then it has been the Scots' favorite whisky.

It consists of over 35 specially selected malts, from the four whisky regions of Scotland, blended together to form a distinctive SPECIAL whisky.

Working on the philosophy of 'all good things come to those who wait', Whyte & Mackay uses a double marriage process in the blending of their whisky, which not only guarantees a smooth, mellow and distinctive character.

But more importantly it guarantees consistency, accounting for every drop of Whyte & Mackay tasting as good as the first.

This exceptional SPECIAL blend is a true reflection of its noble founders.

Bronze at the International Wine & Spirits Competition Awards 2007

Bronze at the International Spirit Challenge Awards 2007

